FUND. ARCHITECTURAL MANUFACTURING

ADM 185 Fund. Architectural Manufacturing 3.0 UNITS

This course covers the basic processing methods for woodworking. Students will learn to safely use hand tools and power tools, machining, joining, shaping, bending, surface preparation and finishing, Computer-Aided Drafting (CAD) and blueprint. Concepts discussed during lectures are reinforced during laboratory hours. Students may not receive credits for both ADM120 and this course.