

RELIGION AND SOCIETY

SOC 230Religion and Society*3.0 UNITS

The course examines the diversity of world religions and their structure and functions from the sociological perspectives. The role of religion in pluralistic societies will be explored. The conflicting trends of fundamentalism and secularization will also be addressed.